Biography

Daphne Thomas has combined her love of the written word with continued professional development to emerge as an award-winning communicator. A native Memphian, Daphne has served on the boards of the Memphis Convention & Visitors Bureau and Memphis in May. Her service on the Memphis chapter of the Public Relations Society of America's board of directors led to her being the first African American woman elected to serve as the prestigious society's board president.

With a public relations and broadcasting career dating back to the mid-1990s, Daphne began her career as producer of two nationally syndicated radio programs for the Memphis Public Library & Information Center. Promoted shortly thereafter to coordinate the Library's public and media relations activities, she also produced and anchored the organization's monthly television news program, Library NewsLINC. In 1998, Daphne joined Memphis chapter of the American Red Cross where she developed fundraising publications and messages and served as media representative and spokesperson for the agency's local and national disaster relief efforts.

In 2000, she embarked on a career in public service when then Mayor Willie W. Herenton appointed her to execute communications for his office, later reappointing her to serve as his communications officer. As such, Daphne wrote and developed publications, press materials, business correspondence and the mayor's annual budget address. She also produced and hosted the City of Memphis monthly public affairs television program, Talkback Memphis. More than seven years later, the mayor selected Daphne to serve as the assistant director for library communication at the Memphis Public Library & Information Center where she supervised the organization's public relations, marketing and broadcasting activities. She continues her public service career in the human resources department at the Memphis Public Library.

Daphne received her Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Journalism from the University of Memphis in 1996 and 2004, respectively. Her academic achievements include winning the Memphis Area Radio Station's scholarship in 1995 and graduating with honors in 1996. While pursuing her advanced degree, Daphne was accepted into national honor societies Phi Kappa Phi and Kappa Tau Alpha.

Professional Experience

CITY OF MEMPHIS - MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

Memphis Police Officer 5/1996 to Present

Currently Assigned to CSI /Crime Scene Investigation Unit

Duties consist of crime scene processing, fingerprint identification, and forensic imaging to department entities and other agencies. The goals and objectives of the Crime Scene Investigations units are the collection, preservation, packaging, transportation, and documentation of physical evidence left at the crime scene.

Environmental Project Planning and Implementation

Duties consist of environmental crime investigations. The goals and objectives of Environmental Project Planning are to develop comprehensive, social marketing strategies, which promoted enhancement of city beautification and quality of life improvement.

- Develop communications and outreach materials geared toward a variety of audiences
- Identify potential stakeholder partnerships and foster relationships that further environmental and public health programs
- Manage projects, tracking budgets and maintaining client relationships

Selected Accomplishments:

- Assisted in the development of environmental investigation certifications through training
- Launched environmental projects with other Memphis area entities (City of Memphis Solid Waste Management, Memphis Fire Department, Memphis Light Gas and Water, Memphis Health Department, Memphis Animal Shelter, OSHA, Commercial Anti Neglect along with Memphis Police Departments own Mt. Moriah Station Task Force) to conduct monthly sweeps in the highly televised crime riddled and environmentally blighted areas.
- Improved direct communication with citizens reporting blight flow and adding effectiveness in response.
- Performed ongoing customer/market research and demographic profiling to identify and capitalize on unmet market needs ahead of the curve for environmental blight issues of the City of Memphis.
- Produced research that demonstrated key environmental analytics and demographics for use in presentations. Efforts were credited as instrumental in curving high level crime stats.
- Leveraged strengths in effectiveness and showed 100% standardized EPA compliance in minimal time.

July 10, 2010

Dear Mayor Wharton,

My name is Frederick McLaughlin and I was born and raised in Memphis. My great-grandfather, E. H. Crump, had a real passion for a clean city.. One of the memories that have been shared with me by many people is the attention to detail and cleanliness that this one time mayor gave to Memphis. If I have inherited one important quality, it would be my desire to see this town stay clean and beautiful. My appointment to the Memphis City Beautiful commission gives me the opportunity to continue this effort. It is quite a challenge.

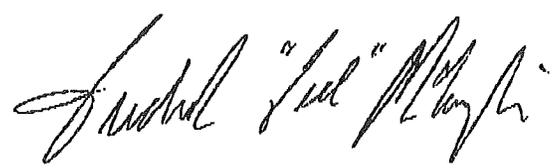

I am a professional arborist and own a small tree service business in Memphis. My goal is to make a decent living doing something I love. After eight years in this industry, I have discovered that only some of the folks are doing this work with expertise and dedication. There is a right way to do the work in this business and that is the way I believe I should operate. Following professional guidelines and local ordinances is the best way to care for this city's beautiful landscape. I would like to work closer with the appropriate people who are responsible for the tree work contracted by the city of Memphis

My greatest concern is the tremendous amount of trash, debris, and refuses that the people in this area produce and leave on our streets. The lack of respect and concern that is exhibited by those who litter our community is shocking! How can we diplomatically get these people to care for their own home and property? There are no excuses for this behavior.

Since joining the commission two years ago, I have witnessed the hard work by the paid staff of MCB and their effort to educate the youth of our city. I believe we all can make a difference. We must get the support of the individual communities to reduce the blight and litter in Memphis.

Sincerely,

Frederick "Ted" McLaughlin
